DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the oscillating product includes a portion for receiving a person must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3, 10, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hoffman (US Patent No. 6,572,483).

Hoffman discloses an entertainment device comprising a mobile arm (30) rotatably coupled to the entertainment device (10); a motion conversion device (50) coupled to the entertainment device (10) and the mobile arm (30) to convert an oscillatory motion of the entertainment device (10) into a rotational motion of the mobile arm (col. 4, lines 38-46); and a mounting member (22) to secure the entertainment device (10) to an oscillating product (swing); wherein upon securing the mounting member (22) to the oscillating product (swing), the oscillating product conveys oscillatory motion to the entertainment device (col. 4, lines 38-46); the mounting member (22) includes at least one fastener (the hooked upper end of reference part 22) to connect the entertainment device (10) to the oscillating product (swing); the mobile arm (30) includes at least one object (44) secured along the mobile arm.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-9, 11-14, and 16-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
